[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

A Big Cash Payment.

Death of Thos. Gallagher.

Thos. Gallagher, a gallant soldier during the war and formerly well known as a sporting character, was buried to-day.

German Immigrants.

BALTIMORE, April 8.—The steamship [illegible], which arrived to-day from Bremen, brought 1532 emigrants. Nearly all go west.

Fatal Accident.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., April 9.—This afternoon an explosion of gas occurred at Preston No. 3 colliery, near Girardville, by which Wm. Grange and Chris Conrad were fatally and Wm. Finn, Patrick Jefferson and Thos. Myers seriously injured.

"Jealousy."

Dallas, Texas, April 9.—David Barron, a prominent colored politician, shot and fatally wounded his wife, then shot himself. Cause, jealousy.

A Severe Rebuke.

NEW YORK, April 9.—The supreme court in general term has affirmed the order of Justice Donohue refusing to grant the application of Cornelius J. Vanderbilt to have a receiver appointed in place of Wm. H. Vanderbilt as trustee of the fund of about $400,000, which was created by Wm. H. Vanderbilt soon after the withdrawal of the contest of Commodore Vanderbilt's will. The judge says: It seems almost incredible that counsel could be found capable of advising such an application, it having neither law nor facts to justify it. The application deserves nothing but severe rebuke.

New York Six Day Walking Match.

NEW YORK, April 8.—Hart and Dobler resumed their extraordinary tramp at about 2 o'clock this morning. At 8 A. M. the score stood: Dobler 341 miles, Hart 336, Pegram 325, Howard 310, Allen 305, Merritt 294, Krohne, Williams 282, Hanawaker 236, Jabez 130.

NEW YORK, April 9.—At 9 o'clock Hart was 7 miles and 60 yards ahead of the best record, having 433½ miles. At noon the score was: Hart, 447; Pegram, 432; Dobler, 428; Howard, 416; Allen, 404.

New York "Public's" Business Statement.

NEW YORK, April 9.—The Public, comparing business for the last quarter with the corresponding period of 1879, shows the aggregate gain in exchange, outside of New York, to be 40 per cent. notwithstanding a decline in San Francisco. The gain in the clearance at all cities is 55 per cent., no part of which is due to activity of speculation here. Comparing last month with March, 1879, the following shows the per centage of gain at the principal cities: New York, 81.1; Boston, 45; Philadelphia, 50; Chicago, 64.2; St. Louis, 33.9; Baltimore, 40.8; Cincinnati, [illegible]; New Orleans, 33.8; Louisville, 28.6; Pittsburg, 37; Cleveland, 47.1; Kansas City, [illegible]. San Francisco shows a loss, during the month compared with March, 1879, of 10 per cent., and during the last quarter compared with the first quarter, 1879, of 9.1. As the advance in average prices has been only about 15 per cent., the returns from every city except San Francisco and Syracuse, indicate an increase in quantities of produce exchanged.

A Murder Confessed.

[illegible], April 9.—An inn keeper of New England named Marks, who died on Monday, made a confession that he himself and a man named Weddler murdered and robbed a peddler whose body some time ago was found in the woods.

Thurlow Weed comes out against Grant's Nomination.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Thurlow Weed, in the Tribune to-day says: "Six months ago Grant's nomination was a foregone conclusion. There was then general belief that the country needed him; but the circumstances and foundations bearing legitimately upon the question have entirely changed." He says that the nomination of either of the other principal candidates preferable to Grant, because he has been honored sufficiently already, and because the anti-third term sentiment will imperil his chances. Weed claims to have been the leading organizer of the movements during his first nomination, and among those who participated, and says: "Of the survivors of these original friends of Grant, though now as then truly his friends, not more than one believes his nomination expedient. If called on to express an opinion, they would probably say that in their judgment the course recently pursued by the republicans of Connecticut in their late convention, was practical and patriotic."

Philosophical Comment.

NEW YORK, April 9.—The Evening Post has the following: The board of trade of San Francisco have lost no time after the departure of DeLesseps, in publishing the report made by their committee on the subject of isthmus canals. The most conspicuous members of the board took pains to treat DeLesseps with distinguished hospitality while he was in that city, and the famous engineer has now another opportunity to measure the difference between social courtesy and business alliance.

Rise in New York Real Estate.

NEW YORK, April 5.—The advance in real estate, especially within the past few months, has extended throughout Manhattan island, the annexed district and Brooklyn. Some property has increased in value a hundred per cent., but the general advance is much below this. Rents have risen everywhere, but not in proportion to the rise in the price of property. Tenants submit to the increased demands of landlords, in view of the improved state of business.

Distressing Fatal Accident.

DIXON, Ill., April 8.—A disastrous fire occurred here last night, breaking out in Thompson & Co.'s mill about 1 A. M., and before arrested burned Becker & Underwood's mill, B. Eels & Co.'s flax mill and some minor buildings; loss, $20,000. Ezra Becker, son of H. P. Becker, and Wm. Schum, clerk in a drug store, were killed. Wm. Rink had both arms broken, and C. P. Lent, Patrick Duffy, Orville Anderson, W. W. Vaun and Frank Yelsenbarger all badly injured.

DIXON, Ill., April 9.—The loss of life in yesterday morning's fire was occasioned by a boiler explosion which occurred at 2 o'clock and threw down the east wall, scattering fire in every direction and burying several firemen who were upon the roof of Becker's mill into the mill race. They all but Ezra Becker and Wm. Schum escaped, as by a miracle. Others who were assisting the firemen were burned, bruised and terribly mutilated by falling walls at the same time. The loss will reach fully $300,000.

Railway Disaster.

WHEELING, W. Va., April 9.—This afternoon the rear coach of a passenger train on the Bellaire & Southwestern railroad, jumped the track on a trestle about 18 miles from Bellaire, falling a distance of 15 feet. There were 15 or 20 passengers in the coach, of whom five or six were injured. I. M. Armour, of Pittsburg, was injured about the side and back and internally; Wm. Smith, of Woodsfield, leg broken and other serious injuries; Capt. Armstrong and daughter, of Bellaire, slightly injured. Reports here are that young Danford, postal clerk, was killed and that three others were badly injured.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Unpleasant Business.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The suit of Lieut. Weller against Admiral Porter to recover $215 alleged to have been illegally retained from plaintiff's pay by defendant's order and sent to his divorced wife, was continued to-day. Several letters were placed in evidence, among them the following:

NEW LONDON, July 29, 1879.

DEAR SIR: I inclose your pay account and shall depend on your honor to send Mrs. W. $20. I do not know how that affair has progressed, but if it is ended this month this is the last payment I will exact from you. When I arrived in Philadelphia I found her in arrears for Kate's schooling, all of which I paid off and you cannot do less than send her $20. Let me hear from you about the affair, and speak of it carefully so that no one will understand if it should be opened. Yours truly,

THE ADMIRAL.

Carlisle's Distillery Bill.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The ways and means committee has ordered a favorable report on Carlisle's bill amending the distillery laws.

Tilden's Workers Counting their Chickens.

NEW YORK, April 8.—A Washington special to the Evening Post says: Tilden's friends profess confidence in their ability to run the Harrisburg convention in the interest of their candidate, and are so sanguine that they have already selected a ticket of delegates at large. They say, however, that the delegates will not be instructed.

Committee to Investigate the West Point Outrage.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The adjutant-general has the following dispatch from General Schofield: All cadets disclaim any knowledge whatever of an attack on Cadet Whittaker. A thorough examination has shown that he had received no injuries except slight cuts from which he bled somewhat freely. A court of inquiry has been appointed to ascertain the whole truth.

The house military committee has appointed Sparks, Johnson and Brown to investigate the West Point outrage.

SOUTH AMERICA.

Peruvian Successes.

PANAMA, March 31.—The Star and Herald says that the Chilians are reported to have met with a disaster near Moquegua. The minister of war wishing to surprise the Peruvians marched under cover of night to the attack. He fell into an ambush and of one regiment of 1200 men only 67 escaped. It is reported that the Chilian loss is 1300 killed besides wounded and prisoners. The Huascar and Magellanes in an attack on Arica lost 25 men killed and wounded. Among the former were Commander Thompson, of the Huascar, and two other officers. The Manco Capac, carrying American guns, struck the Huascar ten times, carrying away her mizzen mast and seriously damaging her hull, while the Manco Capac and the shore batteries were uninjured. Many houses in town were knocked down, and several women and children killed. The Chilians had not given notice of their intention to shell the town. Two Chilian war vessels visited Lobos Guano Islands and stopped the loading of about twenty vessels.

CENTRAL AMERICA.

A Kearney in Central America.

PANAMA, April 9.—The Star and Herald of March 21st says: In Antiqua a second Kearney has issued his manifesto to the "Sons of the West," in which he indulges in characteristic bosh. He speaks of himself as their leader for the last three years, struggling to plant in this soil sound ideas of liberalism, contending with the common enemy, with false liberals and against the element of concentrated wealth which oppose itself systematically to all popular aspirations.

NOVA SCOTIA.

EAST PORTLAND NOTES

Gathered by an "Oregonian" Reporter.

Work was commenced yesterday on the handsome pavilion for the new brewery.

S. Sylvester is erecting two dwellings on Fourth street between D and E, to cost about $1200.

The leap year party by the Ladies' Friendly society at Neppach's hall last night was a grand success socially and financially.

A mass meeting in the interest of the Portland & Vancouver railroad will be held in the city hall this (Saturday) evening at 7:30.

The school directors will have plans for an addition to the central school house prepared in a few days, and will then receive bids for the work. The addition will be 40 by 40 feet, two stories high, and will cost about $2000.

There are not six vacant dwellings in the city now. Prettyman & Crentz, real estate dealers, announced one for rent yesterday morning, and had eight applicants before noon. It is altogether likely that tenants could be found for one hundred dwellings if they were built this summer.

Wm. Bondin, who is down with small-pox at a residence at the corner of Tenth and [illegible], has the attention of an experienced nurse. The latter is reported as having said that he did not think the disease was confluent small-pox. There is no excitement whatever in the city over the case.

There is a demand from several business houses for telephonic connection with Portland. Why not one of the companies lay a cable across the river, and establish a closer communication between the two cities? Enough subscribers could no doubt be secured to make the investment a paying one.

SCHOONER ENTERPRISE WATER-LOGGED.

The Astorian of April 9th contains the following:

Word reached the city yesterday by steamer Gov. Curry that the schooner Enterprise, laden with lumber from South Bend mills to San Francisco, went ashore on Shoalwater Bay bar when passing out to sea on Monday last, and was deserted by all hands and the cook, with the exception of Capt. Donnelly, and Mr. John Woods who was going as a passenger. After the crew left, her Capt. Donnelly and Mr. Woods worked her back to South Bend, where she now lies in a waterlogged condition.

The new foundry at Corvallis will make its first blast to-day.

I do not feel inclined to relieve you of your office because you believe yourself unable in a particular case to carry out the task allotted you by the constitution. I must, on the contrary, leave it to you to submit to me, and subsequently to the Bundesrath proposals, calculated to bring about a constitutional solution of the conflict of duties of this description."

Prince Orloff Coming Back.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 8.—Prince Orloff will soon return to Paris.

Russian Affairs.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 9.—The press bureau is again very active and the position of journalists is anxious and difficult.

THE PORTLAND ROWING ASSOCIATION.

This organization was formed May 5, 1879, with the following officers: Gen. S. Brooke, president; Theo. B. Wilcox, vice president; Joe N. Teal, secretary and treasurer; J. R. Stoddard, captain; A. S. Whiting, deputy captain, and 39 members.

During the last rowing season their membership constantly increased, demanding more boats and larger accommodations which J. Lachapelle cheerfully furnished. They were the winners of six silver cups in as many different races and made the best time ever pulled on this coast for three miles and a turn. Wishing to place it on a firm foundation, the directors proceeded to have it incorporated, which was done on Nov. 19, 1879.

Their newly elected directors have been published, but the officers are as follows: George H. Brooke, president; Wm. M. Ladd, vice president; H. J. Corbett, secretary; Charles Hyde, treasurer; J. R. Stoddard, captain; A. S. Whiting, deputy captain.

This year will see the P. R. A. in their own boat house, and with the finest paper boat, four oared, on the coast, and as fine as any in the country, which is now on the way overland. Of course, these will all cost considerable, but the gentlemen of Portland, with their usual generosity, have seen that the club was placed in a position to advance. There are now about 30 applications to be acted upon for membership. Too much credit cannot be given to the efficient Captain Stoddard, to whose untiring energy and faithfulness much of the success of the P. R. A. is due. The new boat when it arrives, will be placed on exhibition in some place where everybody may have the opportunity of seeing it.

The board of directors have ordered the first Monday in June to be the day for holding their annual regatta. They have also levied an assessment of 10 per cent upon all the capital stock, payable to the treasurer.

THE STATE MILITIA.

Thomas Mountain, plaintiff and respondent, vs the County Court of Multnomah County, plaintiff and appellant.

SYLLABUS.

Under sec. 875 of the code no appeal lies from the county court given or made in the transaction of county business, but such decisions shall only be reviewed upon the writ of review provided for by the code.

It is the duty of the county court in each county in which there shall be an organized volunteer company, upon application of the commanding officer thereof, to provide an armory and an armorer to take charge of the same: and to audit, allow, and cause to be paid the necessary expense of the same, which shall not exceed $50 per month.

The action of the county court in refusing to allow such expenses when properly presented, may be reviewed by the circuit court upon the writ of review provided for by the code.

STATEMENT OF THE CASE.

In May, 1872, the Portland Light Battery was organized in said county according to the laws of the state of Oregon, and was listed in the office of the adjutant general of the state, and became and has continued ever since a part of the organized militia of the state. Thomas Mountain aforesaid was elected and duly commissioned captain, and as such gave the necessary bonds required by statute. He has been ever since and is now such captain, duly qualified and commissioned according to law. The said battery is a sectional one, having two guns or cannons without caissons, that being the total amount of ordnance belonging to the state of Oregon. From the time of its organization until the first day of July, 1879, the county court of Multnomah county has paid to Mountain as captain of said battery, the sum of $50 monthly, that being the limit imposed by law to be allowed such an organization for monthly necessary expenses. Since that time nothing has been paid. In October, 1879, Mountain petitioned said county court to allow the necessary expenses of the said battery for July, August and September, alleging that they were $40 50 for each of said months, itemized as follows: $30 for rent of armory, $10 pay of armorer and $1 50 lights; total, $121 50. In this petition he set out at length the above facts, and duly verified them by affidavit. The county court, after hearing the petition, made an order disallowing all of said account, whereupon Mountain brought a writ of review to the circuit court, alleging as grounds of error: that there was no evidence before said court other than said petition, and there was no controversy or dispute about the matters and things set forth in said petition; that said court had no jurisdiction to disallow said petition, for the reason that it is the duty of said county court to audit and allow and cause to be paid the necessary expenses of a duly organized volunteer company of the state, and that said court refused to audit and allow, or cause to be paid, the necessary expenses, and without cause disallowed the same.

A motion was made on behalf of the county court to dismiss the writ of review for want of jurisdiction, which was denied.

After argument the circuit court made an order finding: "That the Portland Light Battery is a duly organized volunteer company; that its necessary expenses for an armory and armorer for and during the months of July, August and September, 1879, are $121 50, and that it is entitled to said sum, and ordered that the county court allow the same," from which judgment and allowance the county court appeals to this court relying upon the following assignments of error:

1st—The court erred in finding the Portland Light Battery was a duly organized volunteer company.

2d—The court erred in finding that its necessary expenses for an armory and armorer for and during the months of July, August and September, 1879, were $121 50.

3d—The court erred in refusing to sustain defendant's motion to dismiss the writ of review for want of jurisdiction.

4th—The court erred in entertaining jurisdiction of this matter and in rendering judgment herein at all for the plaintiff in the sum of $121 50.

OPINION BY PRIM, J.

The first and second assignments of error are not well taken, and therefore overruled, as it appears there was no dispute as to facts found by the court. The facts proved by the court, to which exceptions were taken, were as follows, to wit:

First—That the Portland Light Battery is a duly organized volunteer company. Second—That its necessary expenses for an armory and armorer for and during the months of July, August and September, 1879, were $121 50.

These facts are fully set out in the petition of Captain Mountain and duly verified by him. Mountain was captain of the company and had charge of the battery, and consequently had personal knowledge of the facts set out in the petition.

The petition was the only evidence before the county court and it appears there was no controversy or dispute about the matters and things set out in said petition. It appears that the county court, after hearing the petition, made an order disallowing the whole of said account. This being an order made by the county court in the transaction of county business there was no remedy by appeal. Section 875 of the code provides that "The provisions of title IV. of chapter VI, relating to appeals, do not apply to the decisions of the county court given or made in the transaction of county business, but that in said matters the decisions of the court shall only be reviewed upon the writ of review provided by this court."

Sec. 19, Miscellaneous laws, page 698, provides as follows:

"It shall be the duty of the county court of each county in which there shall be one or more organized volunteer companies, upon application of the commanding officer of the same, to provide for each company in said county, an armory safe and suitable for the drill of squads in the school of the soldier; and an armorer, to take charge of the same; and said court shall also, at each of its sessions, audit and allow, and cause to be paid, the necessary expenses of the same; provided, That the total amount for all the purposes above mentioned shall not exceed fifty dollars in money per month for each company."

It will be seen that by the provisions of this section it is made the special duty of the county courts to audit, allow and cause to be paid the necessary expenses of organized volunteer companies within their respective counties.

And as the county courts, as a matter of necessity, in allowing or disallowing these accounts, have to exercise judicial functions, their actions may be reviewed by a writ of review provided for in the code.

What did De Lesseps Gain?

NEW YORK, April 5.—Under the heading of "What Did De Lesseps Gain?" the Times says: De Lesseps has finished his pilgrimage to the western continent and set out on his return to Europe, and it is pertinent to inquire how much he has gained for the promotion of his great project for severing the isthmus that separates the two oceans at Panama. He has visited the scene of his proposed operations and a technical commission brought over for the purpose has declared the work to be entirely practicable, and has set down the cost at about $168,000,000. The projector has made a tour to some of the principal cities of this country for the purpose of commending the enterprise to our people. He was received with the respect and admiration which the prestige of his past achievements was calculated to excite, but it was probably less rather than greater than it would have been if he had had no new designs which were supposed to affect our national interests. His proposals were everywhere respectfully listened to, even at Washington; but there is no evidence that they are regarded with more favor than before his visit. He has stirred up the ancient Monroe Doctrine and provoked the declaration of pretension on the part of our government, which will probably be prevented from putting us in a ridiculous attitude only by the failure of his scheme. With the suppleness of the diplomat, he professed to regard these pretensions as unobjectionable, and claimed that they furnished a new security for the purely commercial character of his undertaking.

The Daily Oregonian

SATURDAY MORNING APRIL 10 1880

The sheet enclosed is part of this issue of THE OREGONIAN In addition to late dispatches and choice miscellaneous matter it contains an article on Alaska written by Mr H F Suksdorf which departs from the casual topics usually treated of by tourists and deals with the practical and more important matters of climate soil the need of government and the commercial possibilities of that isolated region The letter is of peculiar value containing as it does plain and business like statements founded upon the personal observation of a gentleman of penetration and sound judgment. Other letters upon the same subject by Mr Suksdorf will follow

PUBLIC LAND SURVEYS

Congress last session created a commission to codify the existing laws relating to the survey and disposition of the public domain The commission consisted of five persons namely the commissioner of the general land office the director of the geological survey and Messrs A T. Britton, Thomas Donaldson and Prof John W. Powell all of the eastern states Had the commission confined itself merely to codification of the laws its labors might have been well enough But it has submitted with its work of codification an elaborate bill "to provide for the survey and disposal of the public lands," containing provisions which would totally change the system of making surveys and which if carried out, would lead to endless extravagance not to say jobbery, at the expense of the government The bill has the appearance of having been drawn by eastern theorists who have no practical acquaintance with the subject before them One of the principal innovations of the proposed act is a provision that hereafter our public land surveys shall be executed by a corps of salaried surveyors to be employed by the surveyors general of the several states and territories instead of being executed by surveyors under contracts, as has been the practice heretofore.

It is easy to see to what results this change would lead Under the system which has hitherto prevailed, contractors have furnished everything and received as compensation for their surveys certain established prices per mile, according to the character of the work But under a salaried system the government will be obliged to furnish everything, instruments, outfit, provisions, transportation, pay of employes, and all contingent expenses. Government would thus be owner of a large amount of perishable property as animals, vehicles, instruments, camp outfit, and the like, most of which would have to be renewed every year or two But under our present system the surveyors own the outfit, and as they pay for the property out of their own pockets, they will buy only such as may be necessary to carry on their work, and for similar reason they will take the utmost care in its preservation. Of course it is preposterous to imagine that this property would be bought so economically or preserved so carefully under the salaried system. And there will be the usual chances of collusion between the seller and buyer, and more than the usual opportunities for exacting percentages at the expense of the government "for the benefit of the party"

When surveyors work under contract they push with all possible energy in order to make money. If there be any who do not push they make nothing, and some are obliged to turn to something else. It is no rare thing for surveyors to work from twelve to sixteen hours a day, because they are working on their own account, and their interest induces them to do the largest possible amount of work But under the salaried system there will be no such incentive. It has come to be thought that eight hours is a sufficient day's work for those employed by the government. Put surveying parties into the field under the salaried system and it is safe to assume that the work will proceed leisurely enough. Long experience has shown that the prices now paid furnish about fair compensation for the work and it has also shown that skill and energy are necessary to make anything at these prices Therefore it is unnecessary to insist that the proposed change be required by considerations of economy. The work cannot be done at lower prices than those now paid under the contract system, and the chances amount to a certainty that the cost will be increased under the proposed change, while great opportunities for corrupt jobs will be created into the bargain. There are large tracts of timber lands which cannot be surveyed with any possible margin of profit to contractors at present prices. Though government is unwilling to increase prices to contractors it will certainly find the cost enormously increased under the salaried system

This bill looks like a scheme worked up by visionaries, who have formed a notion that some change ought to be made, yet who are unable to apply practical judgment to the solution of their plan. The old contract system has, indeed, often led to abuses, but the abuses under it are undoubtedly trifling in comparison with those which would follow the adoption of this radical change Congress, we trust, will let this bill of scientific theorists and dreamers sleep quietly in the hands that brought it forth.

A CROOKED FINANCIAL RECORD

We cannot wonder that the democratic convention had a good deal of trouble in wrestling with the financial problem The course of the party on that subject has been sinuous—perhaps we should be justified in saying serpentine, insomuch that it has been hard to keep a reckoning Its path, if traced out through its platforms in this state during the last ten years, might well resemble a diagram of the supposed track of the Israelites through the wilderness. In 1870 the platform was for naked repudiation. In 1872 it was silent on financial questions. In 1874 it was in favor of specie payments In 1876 it reaffirmed the platform of 1874 In 1878 it declared in favor of paying the national debt in greenbacks and insisted on repeal of the resumption act In 1880 it tries to straddle the awful chasm by declaring first that gold and silver are the only constitutional money and second, that there should be no further contraction of the paper currency It is not surprising, therefore that many of the members of the recent convention couldn't see through the puzzle but confused hopelessly found no end in wandering mazes lost Only Judge McArthur seemed able to find his way clearly out To deliver the rest some great illumination is still necessary And perhaps this light can shine only after further political adversity We have some who hold that the democracy now believe and have always believed that gold and silver are the only constitutional currency—yet we have had democratic platforms declaring in favor of greenbacks demanding that paper and opposing resumption of specie payments and now we have one which declares that the paper currency now outstanding shall never be redeemed Under all these circumstances it would seem an act of boldness on the part of any democratic expounder to dogmatize on the financial record of his party much less to point to it with pride as the embodiment of everything safe sound and wise While the record may be various enough to satisfy all classes in the party from bullionists to fiatists nevertheless it is not one which bears examination or convinces the seeker after sound financial principles that he should turn to the democratic party as an infallible guide Its fresh equivocation in the resolution just adopted at Albany certainly does not better the record

JUDGE KELLY'S TURN

Judge McArthur has recanted his financial heresies in a very manly way and has put himself fairly on the side of national honor and honesty It would look well in Judge Kelly to do the same thing Shortly after the adoption of the democratic platform of 1870 which Judge McArthur then advocated but now repudiates Judge Kelly made a speech at Oro Fino Hall in this city in which he most earnestly defended that shameful platform The speech throughout was an assault on the public credit Judge Kelly would not allow that anything else was "democracy" Now that Judge McArthur has discharged a duty of citizenship by putting himself right the example would be an excellent one for Judge Kelly to imitate It would cost little to hire a hall and nothing to print a card in the newspapers Judge McArthur has done some close reading and good thinking during the last ten years We trust Judge Kelly is not too old nor too indolent to learn nor yet so wanting in candor as to refuse to acknowledge and recant errors which, as this journal told him at the time and which he must now clearly see for himself were the result only of ignorance and of partisan prejudice

Was it because of that telegraph monopoly of which we still hear occasionally that THE OREGONIAN of Thursday contained the full proceedings had in the democratic convention at Albany on Wednesday including the platform which was reported at 10 P M while the so-called democratic organ here had nothing worth noting and not a line of the platform nor even an allusion to it? It copied on Friday from our news columns the report telegraphed us from Albany Wednesday night, word for word including the platform This is the difference between a live newspaper and a slow and sleepy organ But probably no democrat looked into the organ on Thursday morning in expectation of finding the report, of the proceedings of his party's convention while all looked into THE OREGONIAN with certainty of finding it so there was no disappointment either way The organ might have had a report from Albany on the same terms as ourselves This "news monopoly" consists simply in enterprise in determination to have the news and in making the necessary expenditure of money to get it. It is a plain matter of business, with no mystery about it.

Mr Clarence King the head of the geological survey, makes a request of congress which the rapid increase in mining investments throughout the country will cause to be received with general interest Mr King points out the fact that only a portion of our great mineral deposits are to be found on the public lands to which the survey is restricted. An accurate and exhaustive presentation of the mineral resources and products of the country cannot be made unless the jurisdiction is extended, as he proposes shall be done by joint resolution, to the whole territory of the United States His idea would be he states, to issue an annual volume of statistics on the subject. It is needless to say that such a volume would be sought for by the public with greater interest than usually attaches to government publications. Mr King predicts for some time in the future an annual mineral yield of $1 000,000,000

The Sunday Mercury of this city is exhibiting a good deal of energy in writing up current topics from its own standpoint While we don't agree with the Mercury in many things, we credit it with independence, a good measure of originality, and no little industry Its local review of the week is attracting a good deal of attention among those who want a Sunday morning paper, and it has the merit of being free from everything of an immoral tendency In politics the Mercury seems to be working a lead of its own Without passing any comment on it in this particular, it is worthy of remark that we have a democratic paper which is a thorn in the flesh of straight party "regularity," —a thing rare enough among democratic papers to be made a note of

Now it is said that most of the delegates to the Cincinnati convention, elected at Albany will vote for Field Such speculation is useless The delegates can't know who they will vote for till Mr Tilden shall have been first consulted Besides, it is more than probable that these delegates will prefer to vote for a thorough democrat rather than for a man who owes his present elevation and distinction to the fact that in times past he has been a republican No repetition of the Greeley business for them

The democratic party of Oregon, in convention assembled, pronounce against the proposition to set aside the two-thirds rule in their national conventions. This adherence to the two-thirds rule is an indication of the bedrock nature of Oregon democracy The rule is a souvenir of the willing servitude of the party in days long gone by to the slave power which ruled it with an iron hand and the rule it seems, is to be adhered to as a sacred memory.

And by the way, there would also be more consistency in the democratic pledge in favor of "honesty and economy in every department of the government state and federal if men who have been connected with great peculations from the state, like A Noltner expert, were as a matter of principle, excluded even from places on the committees of the party

CITY.

SALUTE OF HONOR TO FRED. V. HOLMAN.—Last night, the several military companies of the city, including the light battery, tendered a salute to Mr. F. V. Holman, who as judge advocate general of the Oregon militia represented their case in the supreme court, and succeeded in having the decision of the county court to discontinue the monthly allowances reversed. At nine o'clock, the companies marched from their armory on Front street, to the armory of the light battery, and there formed a line of march, headed by a detachment from the artillery drawing one gun. A brass band, previously engaged, disappointed the militia at the last moment, and they had to be content with martial music only. Proceeding to the residence of Mr. Holman, corner of Lowndsdale and Taylor, the gun was planted opposite the house, and the regulation military salute of honor fired. Between shots there was a liberal display of fireworks. The companies were then drawn in line in front of the residence. Capt. Tom. Mountain of the battery, in a few well chosen words thanked Mr. Holman for his services and asked that the salute be regarded as a token of their appreciation. Mr. Holman addressed the companies, congratulating them that they had been successful in their suit, that they still remained the militia of Oregon, and that the county court had been taught a lesson in law. He paid a high compliment to Chief Justice J. K. Kelly, of the supreme bench, who commanded the Oregon militia in the Indian war of 1855-56. He alluded in fitting terms to the valor and distinguished services of the Massachusetts militia at Lexington and Bunker Hill, when they met the British regulars. He expressed the hope that the occasion might never come when the militia of Multnomah county should be called on to protect life and property; but if ever any such exigency arose, the men before him would respond like men. He closed by thanking the companies for the honor and the wish that prosperity would ever attend them. The speech was frequently interrupted with applause, and at the end twice three rousing cheers were heartily given.

STREET WORK.—The work of macadamizing First and South First streets, under the contract let last Tuesday, has been begun already. D. Ellerson was the first contractor on the job, beginning the grading for the stone between Lincoln and Grant streets. Baker is still engaged with a large force of men on the grading of Water street, but his work makes very slow showing in filling the large ravine at Montgomery street, although the cuts north of it look like several thousand yards of earth had already been moved. Grading is also progressing on North Seventeenth street, though very slowly. The contract of laying sidewalks on the west side of North Seventeenth, between B and L streets, will be completed during the present week. The macadamizing of E street has reached North Fifth street, running westerly, and the sidewalk contracts for F street are nearly all completed.

BONDS DULY FILED.—Messrs. Hall & Kern were the lowest responsible bidders last Saturday for the contract for the improvement of Front street from Ash to Madison, by the laying of Belgian pavement. This street contracting firm was required to give a bond of $30,000 for the faithful performance of the work, as required by the ordinance authorizing the improvement. In order to enable Messrs. Hall & Kern to furnish the bond required, an extension of time was granted, expiring yesterday—Friday—at 3 o'clock P. M. At 2:30 the bond was filed in the office of the auditor, the several responsible sureties being duly sworn.

SUCCESSFUL APPLICANTS.—Of the 18 applicants for certificates at the quarterly examination, held by I. Allen Macrum, county superintendent, assisted by Prof. Thomas H. Crawford, city superintendent of the public schools, and Prof. R. K. Warren, of the high school, only nine, it seems, were successful. Three of those who passed were entitled to first class certificates, and six to second class certificates. Those who were awarded first class certificates are, Miss Ida Yocum, Miss [illegible] Lavelle, and Miss Ella Stannus.

SURVEYS COMPLETED.—The Portland and Vancouver Railroad Co. have completed surveys from East Portland to Vancouver, and one line from Albina to Vancouver. The surveyor finds the Albina road about one mile the shorter of the two and altogether the best grade. By this road they also avoid two very large and expensive bridges. The bridge on Columbia river bottom will have to be 12 miles in length and an average height of 20 feet.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS.—Yesterday afternoon a regular meeting of the board of directors of school district No. 1, was held at the office of E. W. Williams, clerk. A number of bills were audited and ordered paid, and some other routine business transacted. Among other business transacted it was concluded to purchase a bell for the North school. The new bell will weigh 550 pounds and will be similar to the one used at the Harrison street school.

SIDEWALKS NEEDED.—The sidewalk around the block on which is situated the North school, is in a bad state of repair, and the superintendent of streets has notified the board of school directors that new sidewalks will have to be placed down. While the work of repairing is going on, it would be as well for the old chimneys, which were so roughly handled by the wind storm of January 9th, to be subjected to an overhauling?

A GAY TIME.—Thursday night the steamer State of California remained at Astoria, there being a lot of freight to discharge. The electric light was displayed at night on board to the admiring gaze of all who were fortunate enough to witness it. By consent of Capt. Debney, the main deck was transformed into an excellent ball room by aid of canvas, wherein the passengers on board, assembled, several hours passed in dancing.

SEWERS TO BE LAID.—At the last meeting of the common council that body provided for the laying of a terra cotta pipe sewer in Alder street, from Fifth to Ninth street, and another in Madison, from the west line of Eighth to the river. This work will probably be let some time next week, as C. B. Talbot, under the direction of the city surveyor, is pushing the work of making the detail plans.

TRAIN DELAYED.—Last Wednesday the south bound train was delayed about half an hour this side of Roseburg, in consequence of the sun warping the track. The road runs along on one side of a hill and was exposed to the rays of the sun and the result was the warping of the track. The difficulty was soon remedied and the train reached Roseburg without further detention.

MISTAKE OF STREETS.—In the council proceedings published in Thursday's OREGONIAN the following appears: "An ordinance providing for the time and manner of improving North Thirteenth street, from A to S, passed." This is a mistake. The street to be improved is North Fifteenth, from H to S. This street will be improved by grading, laying sidewalk and bridging a gulch.

CONTRACT AWARDED.—The contract for transporting the iron for the Oregon Railway company, limited from this city to points on the Upper Willamette has been awarded to Capt. Wm. J. Buchanan. The first shipment of iron, and a second-hand locomotive will be received in a few days per sailing vessel from San Francisco, and taken to the front without delay.

NOT APPROVED.—It appears that Hall & Kern secured bondsmen in the sum of $30,000 for the Belgian block pavement contract yesterday evening, but the mayor refused to approve them, alleging that they had not been presented within the time set by the street committee. The matter may have to be referred to the common council for settlement.

LAD INJURED.—Master Robert King, the house messenger for the Portland Telephone Company, met with a painful accident yesterday. In turning a corner quickly, the animal slipped and fell. One of the boy's legs was caught under the horse and severely strained and bruised. The injuries will confine the boy to the house for some time.

ADMITTED TO PRACTICE.—United States circuit court met this morning and on motion of R. Mallory, Mr. C. H. Woodward was admitted to practice. The court, without transacting further business, adjourned without day.

A RAILROAD AT AUCTION.—The Olympia and Tenino railroad was sold by the sheriff yesterday for taxes. As no bidders appeared the county took it at $1558 11. Trains are running as usual.

MAIL.—The steamer State of California, which arrived here yesterday afternoon, brought the following mail: Tacoma and Portland, canvas, 1; Portland and Roseburg, canvas, 27; pouch, 1; cases, 3; Portland, and Corvallis, canvas, 7; Portland, canvas 27; pouch 1, cases, 3. Total canvas, 91; pouches, 2; cases, 6.

A MERITED HONOR.—Dr. A. L. Lindsley has been appointed one of the commissioners to represent the general association of the Presbyterian church of the United States, at the Ecumenical council of the churches of the Presbyterian order throughout the world, which will be held in Philadelphia next September.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.—The republican county convention of Multnomah will convene at the courthouse this (Saturday) forenoon at 10 o'clock. The purpose of the convention is to elect 25 delegates to attend the republican state convention called to meet in Portland on Wednesday, April 21st.

I. O. O. F.—At the last regular meeting of Hassalo Lodge No. 15 I. O. O. F., past grands W. F. Shipley, A. E. Borthwick, A. N. Gambell and A. G. Walling were elected as representatives to the Grand Lodge I. O. O. F. that meets in this city on the third Tuesday in May next.

CORRECTION.—In our report of the Albany convention some mistakes were made in names; among them was that of Mr. E. H. Autenreith who represented Josephine county in the convention. The papers generally have got his name Audenreith.

UNDER ARREST.—M. B. Wallace, constable for Madison precinct, arrested yesterday Mr. Ross and wife, and a man named Ellison, charged with an assault upon one Jacobs. Wallace also arrested Jacobs charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

REGULAR TERM.—The regular April term of the United States circuit court will convene next Monday, 12th. On the convening of the court the docket, which has already been published in THE OREGONIAN, will be read.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.—The regular monthly institute of the teachers connected with the public schools of the city, will be held this forenoon, at Central school building. The exercises will commence at 10 A. M.

ORGAN AND CHOIR GALLERY.—It is quite probable that the organ and choir of Trinity church will be transferred to a gallery to be built over the west entrance of that edifice.

BOAT HOUSE.—If satisfactory arrangements can be effected, the Portland Rowing Association will have a model boat and club house erected this spring.

"THE PRESS."—This will be the subject of a free lecture by Mr. J. J. Owen, editor of the San Jose Mercury, at Y. M. C. A. hall, Monday evening.

NO MORE "SICK" HEADACHE.—For persons of delicate health and nervousness, hear what an eminent lady lecturer says: "Having suffered from nervous headache for some time, and not finding any relief from the treatment of our best physicians, I tried Pfunder's Oregon Blood Purifier. One dose of this remarkable remedy gave immediate relief, and a few bottles of the same cured me so far. I can recommend it especially to ladies suffering similarly. Ask for it, your Druggist has it.

I TAKE pleasure in saying to the public that I will give prompt attention to all orders from both city and country for making views of residences, business houses, public buildings, landscape views, steamboats, fine stock and especially interior work, showing parlor views, fine displays of merchandise, mill and steamboat machinery, etc. I claim that my special artist, Mr. Wulzen, has no superior on the coast—save Mr. Watkinds, of San Francisco, in whose employ he was for over six years—and desire to devote his entire time to that class of work for the next few months. Your patronage respectfully solicited. I. G. Davidson, Photographer, First and Yamhill streets, Portland.

CARD OF THANKS.

Allow me to take this method of expressing my gratitude to those kind friends who so generously gave their assistance at my benefit on Monday, April 5th. To Prof. Henderson, Col. McCraken, Messrs. Kinross, VanBeurden and White, Misses Grazan and Smith, not forgetting the little fairy misses whose childish grace and beauty lent such a charm; also the young gentlemen, Messrs. Olds, Andrews and Tanner, who so kindly acted as ushers for the occasion, to Mr. C. K. Stevens, and others who, in various ways contributed toward the success of the entertainment, I would once more say, I thank you all.

"When gratitude o'erflows the swelling heart,
And breathes in free and uninterrupted praise
For benefits received, propitious heaven
Takes such acknowledgement as fragrant incense,
And doubles all its blessings."

Yours most respectfully,
LENORA H. WITHERELL.

Perhaps it may be gratifying and but just that the public who so generously responded in my behalf by filling New Market theater should know something of the financial success of the affair:

THE OREGON KIDNEY TEA:

Read the following testimonials, not from persons 3,000 miles away, whom no one knows but from well known and trustworthy citizens of Oregon, whose names, written with their own hands, can be seen at our office:

Forest Grove, Oregon, March, 19, 1880.
I hereby certify that I have used the Oregon Kidney Tea, and obtained immediate relief. It is God's blessing to humanity. I take pleasure in recommending it to the afflicted. I am now nearly 90 years old, came to Oregon in 1812 in the employ of the Hudson's Bay Company, and since I began using the Oregon Kidney Tea, I enjoy good health.
DAVID MUNROE.

Highland, Clackamas Co., Or., March 20 1880.
I have suffered with a disease of the kidneys for 6 or 7 years and for the last two months have been laid up with a pain in my back. A friend sent me a sample of the Oregon Kidney Tea, and having used it one week I can do a good day's work. I have derived more benefit from it than from all the medicines I have ever taken.
J. Q. NEWBILL.

Quinine and Arsenic

Form the basis of many of the Ague remedies in the market, and are the last resort of physicians and people who know no better medicine to employ for this distressing complaint. The effects of either of these drugs are destructive to the system, producing headache, intestinal disorders, vertigo, dizziness, ringing in the ears, and depression of the constitutional health. AYER'S AGUE CURE is a vegetable discovery, containing neither quinine, arsenic, nor any deleterious ingredient, and is an infallible and rapid cure for every form of Fever and Ague. Its effects are permanent and certain, and no injury can result from its use. Besides being a positive cure for Fever and Ague in all its forms, it is a superior remedy for Liver Complaints. It is an excellent tonic and preventive as well as cure of all complaints peculiar to malarious, marshy and miasmatic districts. By direct action on the Liver and biliary apparatus, it stimulates the system to a vigorous, healthy condition. For sale by all dealers. Hodge, Davis & Co., wholesale agents, Portland.

A GOOD THING.

German Syrup is the special prescription of Dr. A. Boschee, a celebrated German Physician, and is acknowledged to be one of the most fortunate discoveries in medicine. It quickly cures Coughs, Colds and all Lung troubles of the severest nature, removing, as it does the cause of the affection and leaving the parts in a strong and healthy condition. It is not an experimental medicine, but has stood the test of years, giving satisfaction in every case, which its rapidly increasing sale every season confirms. Two million bottles sold annually. Beware of medicines of similar names, lately introduced. Boschee's German Syrup was introduced in the United States in 1868, and is now sold in every town and village in the civilized world. Three doses will relieve any ordinary cough. Price 75 cents. Sample bottle, 10 cents.

THE NEW HAYES TRUCK.

The fire boys will read with interest the following description of the new Hayes truck, taken from the San Francisco Call. Daniel D. Hayes, the inventor of that important piece of fire apparatus known as the Hayes extension truck, has just completed one for the use of the fire department of Portland, Oregon. The truck, a second class one, built at a cost of $3,500, is one of the finest that has ever left the inventor's hands. It is improved in many respects to facilitate its working and increase its usefulness. The truck, which is to be drawn by hand, weighs between 4500 and 5000 pounds, has a ladder which may be extended until it reaches a height of eighty feet above the turn table on which it rests. It is provided with a nest of five ladders, to be raised by hand, roofing ladder, hooks, axes, crotch poles, tormentors, pitchforks, fire escape, and a line for hoisting up hose to the roof of a house. It is provided with a new style of steering apparatus which, upon trial, has been found to be effective and less dangerous than a tiller. When completed, the truck was tried and the ladder was raised, extended and placed in position in thirty one seconds—a remarkable performance in view of the fact that the machinery is all new and stiff. The running gear is painted white with fillets of gold; the body and the main ladder are painted a dark blue, relieved with gold stripes. The whole presents a very attractive appearance.

Passing the corner of Second and Morrison streets, the crowds of people assembled attracted our attention. On making inquiries we were informed the commotion was caused by the 9 cent dress goods sold by Woodward, McQuiston & Bradshaw.

The American girl is described by a thoughtful writer (also American) as exquisitely susceptible and impressed by mild irritation acting upon any of the senses. She dresses in taste, and, where the means are at hand, with elegance, in colors that are quiet and subdued, and noticeable only at a short distance. We make haste to add what this author should not have overlooked, that by none of the sex is Madame Rachel's Enamel Bloom more highly appreciated than by her. For sale by J. A. Child, Central Drug Store.

DANDRUFF

And other diseases of the head inevitably tend to destroy the hair's vitality. The best known remedy for these herpetic diseases is the Oriental Tonic, which causes them to disappear speedily. But this is not all. It invigorates and regulates the cuticle in such a manner that it precludes a recurrence whilst its use is continued. The obstructed pores stopping perspiration is the cause of the falling of the hair in many cases, and such torpidity cannot exist when the surface vesicles are invigorated by this active vegetable tonic.

PORTLAND
CITY HOMESTEAD.

THE LAND IN THIS ENTERPRISE LIES adjoining the city, and is only from ten to fifteen minutes' walk from the court-house, and a less distance than that from one of the best public schools in the city. It is divided into

One Thousand and Twenty-Four Lots,

Fifty by one hundred feet in size, with streets sixty feet wide. Two hundred of these lots will be reserved for those who desire to improve and build this summer and fall. These lots will be sold on the same liberal terms that are offered in the Homestead proper.

Price.

All lots will be sold for $100 each, payable in installments of $5 per month, or the small sum of 16⅔ cents per day. No interest will be charged, and a good and sufficient Bond for Deed will be given upon the payment of the first installment of $5, and a Warranty Deed upon receipt of last installment, both without expense to purchaser.

Appreciation of Values.

By reference to The Oregonian of Feb. 15th, it will be found that city property has advanced twenty five per cent during the past year. As there has been no excitement, the rise is wholly attributable to the increasing immigration and the growing confidence inspired by our numerous railroad enterprises and the development of our many natural resources, that have hitherto slumbered for lack of energetic men to develop them.

It is True,

That of all real estate investments the homestead plan is the best and safest, as all who invest are interested in making the whole property more valuable. To illustrate: Suppose A builds a house on his lot, and B owns a lot adjoining; B gets the benefit of A's improvement, while A is not injured thereby. This philosophy will apply to the entire property.

Wee have donated a lot to each of the principal churches for church purposes.

In addition to the above, two lots are set apart for public school purposes.

Division.

The division of this property will take place when the lots are all sold, or, in any event, not later than the 28th February, 1881,

at the Mechanics' Pavilion, commencing at 10 o'clock A. M., public notice of which will be given by publication in two principal journals in the State.

It will be made in the manner decided upon by a majority of the purchasers in the Homestead. Parties interested may appoint proxies to act for them if they desire to do so. Parties who do not attend at the time of the division, either in person or by proxy, will be bound by the plan settled upon by the majority of those who do so attend.

It is suggested by the purchasers that division might be made by placing the number of each lot and block in a wheel or box and the name of each party interested in the homestead in another—then a name will be drawn from one and a number from the other, and the lot so drawn deeded to the person whose name is so drawn, when all payments are made.

All but the first installment must be paid at the banking house of Ladd & Tilton, in the city of Portland.

Persons from a Distance

Desiring a share, may forward $5.00 to the General Manager, and a bond will be immediately forwarded.

Money may be forwarded by registered letter, money order, or Wells Fargo & Co's express, at my risk.

SATURDAY MORNING, APRIL 10, 1880.

BANNER TEMPERANCE SHIP.

For several days past a flag floating at the mast head of the bark Ladstock, has been the occasion of remark and query.

For the benefit of the uninitiated and all parties interested, we may state that this flag "with its strange device" (I. O. G. T. of the World) has quite a history in connection with International Good Templarism on sea and land.

It was made on board the British bark Gryfe, and borne at her mast head as she sailed into San Francisco. It was transferred from ship to shore by Special Deputy G. W. C. T., W. Simpson, at the organization of "Gryfe to the Rescue Lodge" in San Francisco.

On the arrival of the bark Carnegie in Portland, at the organization of Bethel Home Lodge No. 1, International Good Templars about four months since, it was presented to Deputy G. W. C. T. R. S. Stubbs, to be used in the lodge, and has been highly prized by the lodge ever since.

The bark Ladstock arrived in this port about five weeks since with two Internationals on board—Mr. W. H. Main, steward, and Mr. J. J. Reynolds, cook.

Chiefly through their labors all the crew of that vessel, except three, have become International Good Templars, and in view of this achievement, as expression of joy and good templar fraternity, this justly interesting flag was presented to Capt. Robert Williams for the floating lodge to be organized on board his vessel, the Ladstock, since which time it has been hoisted daily at her main, awakening interest, curiosity and gratitude in many hearts. At its presentation by Mrs. M. E. Stubbs, who was acting worthy chief templar that evening in consequence of the illness of Mrs. E. M. Martin, W. C. T., the captain made a very modest and appropriate response, expressing the "hope that he should always prove true to the principles symbolized by the flag he held in his hand." The friends of temperance everywhere will rejoice at this signal of progress among seamen. It is the purpose of the master to carry this flag at his mast-head entering his port of destination in Europe. We certainly wish him and his temperance crew un bon voyage.

In reviewing the occurrences of the last three years on our river front, we are reminded that this is the third flag which has signalized the aggressive bethel work among seamen. First—The large bethel flag presented by the ladies of Portland to the seamen's bethel, corner D and Third street, which was hoisted on the Columbia Chief in the presence of some 2000 spectators, about two years since, by the youngest son of Rev. Dr. A. L. Lindsley, of this city, assisted by the youngest daughter of General O. O. Howard, of the Department of the Columbia.

The next was the burgee of the "Shipmasters' Evangelical Association" of the United Kingdom—a white swallow-tailed flag and a blue star in the center.

And third and lastly, the temperance banner ship Ladstock, with her Good Templar flag—white square flag with red letters—"I. O. G. T. of the World."

Thus silently and certainly the nations are being cemented in the indissoluble bonds of virtue, temperance and brotherly love. So mote it be.

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

The following special report of the real estate market is furnished THE OREGONIAN by Clark & Upton, real estate brokers and architects:

The volume of business in the real estate market continues to increase despite the efforts of certain journals to repress it. The confidence exhibited in the stability of Portland, and in its growth and future importance is week by week more marked. Owners of properties demand and in some instances obtain prices that would have been thought decidedly high a few months ago. Holders of broken and almost inaccessible lands in the suburbs are taking advantage of the situation, and finding occasional purchasers at high rates. It is by this class of property that the greatest disasters are generally wrought in times of real estate confidence, and the buyers and victims are generally amongst that portion of the community which is least able to afford a loss. By comparing the transactions of the market with those of a year ago it will be seen that the percentage of advance obtained for outside lots is manifold that of the advance of lots within the city limits, which have a real commercial value, may be regarded as safe investments, and will be negotiable when outside properties cannot be disposed of.

The deeds recorded during the past week number 47, and the aggregate amount $62,014, as against 34 and $48,950 the preceding week. The deeds are divided as follows: 24 Portland, 14 East Portland and 5 country. The actual transactions appear to number 40, as three of the deeds were confirmatory and four U. S. patents. In 18 instances nominal consideration only is named. It is therefore safe to assume that the aggregate amount of the business done is considerably more than the sum above named.

LIVER PILLS,

FOR THE CURE OF

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE.

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER.

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

The genuine McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

Such as SPERMATORRHEA, or SEMINAL WEAKNESS, or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring, either directly or indirectly, from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organization broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

ALASKA.

A Good Descriptive Letter [illegible] Government [illegible] of the Country

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

Having recently made a [illegible] improved the [illegible] intended to make [illegible] tion of affairs in that [illegible] beg leave to use a small [illegible] umns for a few remarks [illegible] stepchild of our sisterhood of states [illegible] led to do this especially since we [illegible] formed by the telegraph that a bill for the organization of that territory has been introduced in congress and that probably [illegible] [illegible] action thereon could be had [illegible] to appoint a committee to investigate the state of affairs there and report at the next session.

Alaska, or rather the southwestern part of it, is a natural tributary to Portland and may become a very valuable one within a few years; and our merchants cannot afford to be idle spectators of the development of things there.

The geography topography physical [illegible] tion, flora, fauna and scenery of that territory are generally well known from [illegible] official correspondence books and the [illegible] and graphic descriptions of Mr John Muir before Portland audiences so I may pass them by with a few short remarks and confine myself mainly to matters not generally known, and of more commercial and political interest

The portion of which I intend to speak embraces that part of the territory from the [illegible] of British Columbia near Fort Simpson [illegible] westerly to about the meridian of Mount St Elias. It consists of a narrow strip along the coast, and a number of islands some of which are of good size. To the west of this the Alaska Commercial Company holds full sway, and doubtless this powerful company can and will defeat or postpone any measure tending to the organization of the whole territory into a political body It is their interest to do so, and it will be done To antagonize that power unnecessarily would be unwise for the present. Our attention should be drawn mainly to the southwestern portion [illegible] embraces nearly all the white settlements, and gives indications of permanent development of resources in the near future The resources of this part of Alaska con[illegible] in fish, fur, lumber and minerals The [illegible] channels, bays and fiords are full of fish of various kinds, and small attempts are being made to establish canneries and [illegible] obtain fish oil, with apparent success A [illegible] growth of timber, mostly spruce hem[illegible] and cedar or cypress covers all the [illegible] hillsides to an altitude of about 2500 feet [illegible] the cypress or cedar is abundant, [illegible] a good price in Portland and San Francisco markets, and before long considerable capital will be invested in this branch of industry. At present there is I think [illegible] one mill of limited capacity running The numerous deep indentations of the [illegible] make the timber accessible and con[illegible] for shipping.

Minerals, such as gold silver, copper iron [illegible] coal, etc., have been discovered at various places on the main land and on the [illegible]. It is undoubtedly a country very rich in minerals; but little prospected and developed. Placer diggings said to be very prom[illegible] have been found at Takuck and other [illegible] and have created quite a stir among [illegible] An extensive mineral belt of gold [illegible] quartz ledges, near Stickin, has been [illegible] pretty well for about 15 miles [illegible] one hundred claims have been located [illegible] registered within about a year, some [illegible] worked, and on one a ten-stamp [illegible] mill erected, ready for operation The [illegible] prospect well A mining district was [illegible] organized last summer, and probably a [illegible] months hence it will be shown whether [illegible] mines are rich enough to pay working [illegible]. If they are, then Alaska is on the [illegible] road to prosperity. The region will be [illegible] roughly prospected, and undoubtedly [illegible] other paying mines discovered

The agricultural resources of this territory [illegible] very limited, and not worth speaking of [illegible], rocky hills about the ocean, the bays [illegible] and channels everywhere There are [illegible] places adapted for farming or grazing, [illegible] if the climate permitted. Occasionally [illegible] the mouths of rivers and creeks are found [illegible] small areas of arable or meadow land No [illegible] can be constructed Settlements can [illegible] communicate with each other by water, [illegible] this isolation makes the settlement of [illegible] places, except in the vicinity of towns [illegible] doubtful undertaking The long win[illegible] and short, cool summer, prevent the suc[illegible] cultivation of cereals. The hardier [illegible] do well, as also small fruit, per[illegible] the hardier of the larger fruits would [illegible]. Grasses, both native and imported, do [illegible]

The climate possesses the general characteristics of the north Pacific coast being mild [illegible] moist. There is no danger of interruption from cold at the mines, saw mills, etc, [illegible] proper precautions are taken concerning [illegible] snow. Even this last exceptionally rig[illegible] winter must be called mild when the [illegible] latitude is borne in mind, as will appear [illegible] the following meteorological data [illegible] furnished me by Capt L A Beardsley [illegible] of the Jamestown, from his report on [illegible] to Commodore Whiting, of date [illegible] 16, 1880:

[illegible] the 31st of December, 1879 the tempera[illegible] of the air, which had during that month [illegible] 32°, with extremes of 42°, and 17° [illegible] below the freezing point, and has re[illegible] below until yesterday (Jan 15th) [illegible] it rose slightly above.

[illegible] degree and duration of cold is believed [illegible] unprecedented

[illegible] temperature of surface of water averaged [illegible] with extremes of 42° to 33°

[illegible] water was always warmest at high [illegible] and coldest at low tide, a difference of 2°

Considering that these observations were made during the coldest portion of an un[illegible] usually severe winter at the high latitude of [illegible], it will be seen that the climate compares favorably with many regions further [illegible]

This part of the territory is sparsely settled [illegible] there are not above a half dozen white settlements in this extensive region —Sitka heading the list with about 300 or 400 Russians and about 200 of other inhabitants [illegible] Wrangle following with about 250 [illegible], and the others including a few [illegible] and posts on the Stickeen and a few [illegible] trading and fishing camps need hardly be mentioned With the exception of the [illegible] at Sitka, there are but few families [illegible] the bulk of the population consisting of [illegible], prospectors, hunters and fishers

The Indian population is variously estimated at from 20 000 to 50 000 souls They live in permanent villages along the shores of bays, channels sounds etc This fact and probably the admixture of Mongolian blood, of which plain traces in features language and customs are observed have made them more tractable domestic industrious and docile, in fact raised them a step higher on the ladder of civilization than their nomadic brothers of the plains Undoubtedly these Indians possess elements in their character which, under wise and proper treatment, could be ennobled and developed to the advantage of both races Missionary labor has commenced on a small scale at Wrangel and at Sitka

Since the acquisition of Alaska in the fall of 1867, nothing has been done by our government to establish law and order and protect person and property of our citizens there For more than twelve years things have been allowed to run in this [illegible] manner People have traded bought and sold goods purchased held and conveyed real estate made contracts and agreements and all this without the strong arm of law and justice being present to redress a wrong [illegible] contract or protect a citizen [illegible] tors There is no provision for the [illegible] tion of children who grow up [illegible] of the rights and duties of an American [illegible] The first attempts made [illegible] matters have been fruitless [illegible] that large [illegible] such [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] respective departments [illegible] White [illegible] a [illegible] trade for [illegible] ary war [illegible] them [illegible] which [illegible] with fire arms [illegible] the government are deaf and the [illegible] zens have to turn to another power for the relief which their government [illegible] disgraceful manner withhold and when infuriated Indians during their drunken feuds [illegible] [illegible] the very suburbs of the white settlements and the lives and property of citizens are in imminent danger [illegible] government sends a [illegible] marine to [illegible] when [illegible] our fierce and warlike aborigines [illegible] It seems [illegible] facts Such a state of affairs [illegible] long under any other government [illegible]

Much has been said and written on this subject a great deal [illegible] the interests [illegible] powerful monopoly and in that of aspirants for lucrative offices and little in the interests of the merchants miners and settlers Several measures concerning the establishment of civil government in Alaska are before congress awaiting action The one proposing the organization of a territorial government is absurd for two reasons It would encounter the opposition of the Alaska Commercial Company which is strong enough in Washington to defeat or postpone anything inimical to its interests unless it can have the control thereof and it would create an army of well paid officers almost as numerous as permanent settlers with very little to do

The only feasible practical and economical plan seems to me to be the one proposing a county government for Southwestern Alaska and annexing it to Washington territory With the laws of the territory extended over that region, with Sitka the county seat with the other settlements organized into precincts having their local officers with towns incorporated and having municipal governments matters would soon regulate themselves in the proper manner

The bill before congress providing for the surveys and land laws of the government over this territory should pass without delay and the department of the Interior should take immediate steps to make regular surveys where people have settled or located mines

There are several hundred town lots in Sitka and Fort Wrangel many of them containing valuable improvements in houses stores &c These are bought and sold continuously and there appears to be no title in any one except actual possession. Should the mines prove to be valuable, the price of real estate would be greatly enhanced, land jumping and the reign of brute force and crime would be the inevitable result

The commercial value of Alaska will undoubtedly be great in the near future The trade with that district naturally ought to and will fall to Portland if our merchants are wideawake and understand their interest Prompt and effective steps should be taken to secure for Alaska a proper civil government and all reasonable aid should be tendered toward the development of its resources Until something is done by the government assistance should be given to the schools at Wrangel and Sitka Capt L A Beardsley and Mr Austin have taken this work in hand A good deal is being done There are about 60 children attending Mr. Austin's school, but there are no funds to pay the teacher or provide the school with furniture apparatus and utensils A few hundred dollars sent for that purpose would be well applied and do permanent good Capt Beardsley will gladly receive contributions for this purpose and see that they are properly expended

I might say a great deal more about Alaska, about its extent, resources scenery and people too little is known of them, but this letter is already too long and I must close Yet I cannot refrain from recommending a trip to Alaska to any lover of the grandeur picturesque beauty and inspiring sublimity of nature The route to Sitka has no parallel in ocean travel Out of the whole distance of 1236 miles there are no more than 300 miles of open sea voyage The rest of the journey the steamer ploughs the smooth placid waters of rivers, narrow channels straits and reaches skirted on either side by steep woody banks high, rocky shores and towering islands pushing their glittering summits far above the dusky region of hemlock and spruce From the serrated mountain chain of the main land the slow massive cascades of ice are pushing toward the ocean the mild climate and damp ground furnish mosses and ferns of wonderful beauty Hour after hour mile after mile the view changes, something new and novel continuously comes in sight and disappears dingy villages of natives with a glimmer of the lights of civilization thrown on their ancient and time honored habits, manners and customs, beetling cliffs majestic forests, land slides roaring cataracts, hurling their rainbow clothed floods into the seething ocean the settlements of whites with the picturesque miner of the coast, the only romantic feature of American life and the Russians with their oriental architecture customs and religious services reminding us that we are approaching the Asiatic continent and over the whole panorama rests that mysterious peculiar dreamy and enchanting tinge and peace so characteristic of landscapes in high latitudes Certainly the student and admirer of nature's works will be amply rewarded by a summer trip to the beautiful islands of Alaska

Eastern Oregon.

Union Sentinel An accident occurred on the Columbia river a few days ago which strikingly illustrates the humane instincts and sympathy that exist in animals A number of horses were being conveyed on the boat when during a commotion among them one was kicked and had its leg broken It was decided to kill the poor brute and put it out of its misery He was dispatched by an ax in the hands of one of the employes of the boat The celebrated old thoroughbred running stallion Delaware was quietly watching the movement and just as the blow was struck he gave a loud scream and fell backwards with a shower of blood streaming from his nostrils For upwards of three hours his agonies were fearful, and it was thought he would die but he finally rallied and may recover Delaware is 18 years old and has a national reputation having beaten Ansel and other celebrated champions of the turf He is owned by Hon J W Nesmith

Jamestown N Y Daily Journal Rep

If the politicians succeed in accomplishing the nomination of Grant what will the dissenters do We have no hesitation in saying that we believe thousands of republicans are so thoroughly committed against Grant and a third term that they will not vote for him under any circumstances while if the democrats should have the sense to nominate a statesman like Bayard or John M Palmer they would vote the democratic ticket

THE TELEGRAPH CASE.

On Trial before Judge McCrary at St Louis The Government's Share in the Matter

[illegible] THE OREGONIAN

[illegible]

St Louis April [illegible]—Hearing of the telegraph cases was continued to-day and Judge Beckwith made an able learned and exhaustive review of the matter from the Atlantic and Pacific standpoint A decision will be made at an early day In the afternoon session the case of the W U T Co against the U P R R Co relative to the occupation of the Omaha bridge by the wires of the telegraph company was taken up and after argument Judge McCrary rendered the following opinion

I think it is manifest that this case is not in condition for a determination of the absolute rights of parties under contract or under law It is sufficient for our present purpose to say that there is here a dispute which neither party has the right to decide for itself Therefore I am disposed to modify this order so as to make it perfectly clear that the Union Pacific Railroad Co is at liberty to institute all legal proceedings for the purpose of canceling the contract under which defendant claims to hold As I understand counsel for the defendant there is no particular objection to anything of this sort that is to say they do not consent to it but they have said in their answers and they say in their argument that they have not the purpose to take any other course than such as the court suggests That being the case there does not seem to be anything to dispute about that requires any further argument and I will take a little time to modify the order which I have made in the manner I have suggested

CONSUL MOSBY.

He Exposes the Frauds of his Predecessors and Growls at the Administration

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN]

WASHINGTON April 8 —A private letter just received here from Col Mosby contains some additional comments in his peculiar style on the peculations or corruptions of Bailey his predecessor in consular office in the east Col Mosby turned over to the department on account of fees more than $7000 for the first year of his incumbency ending in February last which is several thousand dollars more than was returned by Bailey during the same period He says that on account of the great expense of living there is not much inducement to honest men to accept the position of U S consul He seems to think that his efforts in behalf of honest administration of the U S consulate and of his exposures of corrupt officials have not been appreciated for he says that he has received several rebukes from the department of state and not a word of encouragement. He then says, The reasons why I have not returned are these I have been threatened with dismissal for uncovering frauds there I want to give the administration an opportunity of carrying out their threats and thereby signalizing their zeal for civil service reform by punishing the only man whom they have appointed to office who has tried to reform it I continue to hold the position here because I have not yet completed my investigation and if I were to resign and come home the ring would claim it as a victory for the thieves and say that I resigned under compulsion I shall however show them that I will remain as long as I choose The frankness with which Mosby has criticised the president Secretary Evarts and others of his superior officers has not been at all relished by them and has been very destructive to discipline, but there is no doubt that he has done much good in uncovering frauds which have been practiced for a long time by American consuls in China He has carried on his investigations in guerrilla fashion and the good he has done would have been approved had he used somewhat more discretion in his methods

A RAILROAD BILL.

Proposition to Alter the Thurman Act—Its Provisions

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN]

WASHINGTON April 8 —The bill reported in the house from the committee on Pacific railroads proposes to alter and amend the sinking fund act of May, 1878 commonly known as the Thurman act an act amendatory thereto in the following particulars

First—It authorizes the secretary of the treasury to invest the sinking fund of the Union Pacific and Central Pacific railroads in bonds of the United States other than 5 per cent bonds or in first mortgage bonds such companies as he may elect.

Second—It extends the time of settlement necessary to ascertain the amount of payments to be made by companies from one month as now, to three months.

Third—It makes settlements and payments semi annual instead of annual

Fourth—It authorizes the secretary of the treasury to transfer moneys now in the treasury and due said companies to the sinking fund

The fourth section of the bill extends the provisions of the act as well as those of the act of which it is amendatory to those persons or companies who become possessors of the roads by lawful purchase or by consolidation

The fifth section of the bill extends the provisions of the sinking fund act to the Kansas Pacific central branch of the Union Pacific and Sioux City and Pacific railroads since those three roads were treated by the same acts as the Central Pacific and Union Pacific roads and constitute money subsidized roads as created by act of 1872 and acts amendatory thereto

Salem Statesman According to the city treasurer's report the total amount of coin in the treasury March 31st 1880 was $4 120 47 This we believe is the largest amount of coin ever in the treasury at one time being enough to pay all outstanding debts and finish up both engine houses

"Up to Snuff"

[From Notes and Queries]

In a Book by M Francisque Michel entitled Etudes de la Philologie Comparee sur l'Argot to which is appended a vocabulary of English slang the phrase "up to snuff" is translated haut au tabac The author also translates the word snuff in King Lear III 1 by tabac unaware apparently that in Shakespeare's time tobacco and snuff were unknown and that no allusion to either occurs in his works Snuff in King Lear, and elsewhere in Shakespeare means fits of ill temper The word is derived from sniff, to betray suspicion or displeasure by the nose in smelling out or discovering causes of offense To be "up to snuff" is to be wary to be circumspect to be able to sniff or smell if anything is going wrong, to track by the scent, as in the similar phrase to smell a rat and in that used by Hamlet with regard to the dead body of Polonius You'll nose him in the lobby Tobacco snuff was evidently so called because it was sniffed up by the nose

THE LOST OCCASION

[illegible]

Some die too late and some too soon,
At early morning, heat of noon,
Or the chill evening twilight. Thou,
Whom the rich heavens did so endow
With eyes of power and Jove's own brow,
With all the massive strength that fills
Thy home horizon's granite hills,
With rarest gifts of heart and head
From manliest stock inherited,
New England's stateliest type of man,
In port and speech Olympian;
Whom no one met at first but took
A second awed and wondering look
(As turned, perchance, the eyes of Greece
On Phidias' unveiled masterpiece);
Whose words in simplest homespun clad,
The Saxon strength of Cædmon's had,
With power reserved at need to reach
The Roman forum's loftiest speech,
Sweet with persuasion, eloquent
In passion, cool in argument,
Or, ponderous, falling on thy foes
As fell the Norse god's hammer blows,
Crushing as if with Talus' flail
Through Error's logic woven mail,
And failing only when they tried
The adamant of the righteous side,
Thou, foiled in aim and hope, bereaved
Of old friends, by the new deceived,
Too soon for us, too soon for thee,
Beside thy lonely Northern sea,
Where long and low the marsh lands spread,
Laid wearily down thy august head.

Thou shouldst have lived to feel below
Thy feet Disunion's fierce upthrow—
The late sprung mine that underlaid
Thy sad concessions vainly made.
Thou shouldst have seen from Sumpter's wall
The star flag of the Union fall,
And armed Rebellion pressing on
The broken lines of Washington.
No stronger voice than thine had then
Called out the utmost might of men
To make the Union's charter free
And strengthen law by liberty.
How had that stern arbitrament
To thy gray age youth's vigor lent,
Shaming ambition's paltry prize
Before thy disillusioned eyes,
Breaking the spell about thee wound
Like the green withes that Sampson bound,
Redeeming in one effort grand,
Thyself and thy imperilled land.
Ah, cruel fate, that closed to thee,
O sleeper by the northern sea,
The gates of opportunity!

* * * * *

But where thy native mountains bare
Their foreheads to diviner air,
Fit emblem of enduring fame
One lofty summit keeps thy name.
For thee the cosmic forces did
The rearing of that pyramid;
The prescient ages shaping with
Fire, flood and frost thy monolith.
Sunrise and sunset lay thereon
With hands of light their benison.
The stars of midnight pause to set
Their jewels in its coronet,
And evermore that mountain mass
Seems climbing from the shadowy pass
To light, as if to manifest
Thy nobler self, thy life at best.

THROUGH FLOOD—THROUGH FIRE

"I assure you, my dear boy, I am extremely sorry to appear unkind in this matter, but, believe me, I am acting for the best."

"But surely I may see Rosie as usual?" I asked.

"I am afraid not," replied Mr. Temple. "It would be very injudicious. You are both too young and too romantic at present. Besides your means are utterly inadequate to maintain a wife."

"May I not bid Rosie good by, then?" I persisted. "One more meeting cannot hurt either of us."

"Rosie is not at home," replied her father gently, as he shook me by the hand. "She went to stay with some friends yesterday. Good night, and hope for better days."

"Good night," I replied. "I suppose you don't mean to be unkind, Mr. Temple, but you have made me very miserable."

"My dear young friend," he replied, putting his hand kindly on my shoulder, "were you in a position to maintain a wife, I would sanction your engagement in time, but now such a course, though painful for us all, is the only one Mrs. Temple and I can in justice adopt. We shall be pleased to see you again after our return from the continent. Good night."

I made no reply—indeed I could not have spoken just then. My throat was choked with tears, and big drops welled slowly from my eyes as I walked away across the open space facing the house. This was to be the termination of our engagement then! Rosie Temple and I had flattered ourselves that a series of dances, picnics and charade parties, with a very good knowledge of lawn tennis and croquet, constituted housekeeping. We had only £300 a year between us, and dear Rose always spent £40 at least on her dress annually. She had lately been very economical in the matter of gloves, and had made herself a bonnet which was in every sense becoming; still, we were not much nearer to matrimony then, and now—

So I pursued my way across the common, and I do not mind confessing that I shed tears as I walked in that dark evening beneath the trees and into the gloomy and desolate high road, caring for nothing and nobody except Rosie, my pretty piquante Rose, wondering whether she had gone—or had she really gone. Was it not a pardonable subterfuge on the part of Mr. Temple to induce me to leave the neighborhood?

At that time I had, unfortunately, no occupation. I had been a clerk in a banking house, but the "bad times" had necessitated a reduction in the "staff," and I was one of those sent away at a month's notice and a month's salary. True, I had a small income derivable from a legacy, but this was scarcely enough to keep me in bread and cheese and clothing.

It will therefore be seen that Mr. Temple was quite right. Matrimony was a luxury I could not afford. I acknowledged it even then, as I went home desponding.

When I reached my lodgings I found two letters awaiting me. One was from my brother, who was commanding a detachment of his regiment in Ireland; the other was from my late father's solicitor. I opened the official note first.

It contained only a few lines requesting me to call on him in London in a day or two, as perhaps I might be able to do some work for the good natured lawyer.

The other letter was most cheerful, and bore a warm invitation to share my brother's country quarters for a fortnight, "or longer if I liked," next month.

Before I went to bed I replied to both my kind correspondents, accepting both invitations.

Next day I went up to London, and in the afternoon I called upon the solicitor nervously.

His business was simple. Did I know French? I did. Was I acquainted with book keeping? I was.

"Well, then," said he, "will you go to Geneva and transact this business, particulars of which I will give you to morrow? You shall be paid as my clerk and have your expenses and something besides."

"Agreed," I said gladly. "I will go. When am I to set out?"

"As soon as you can get ready. If you do this well I think I can help you to something better."

I wrung his hand and thanked him, took the first train home, packed up, and next morning at eleven o'clock was at the office in London again. I wrote to my brother telling him the facts, mastered my instructions, and next morning I was in Paris.

I found the business at Geneva much more complicated than I expected. It was a liquidation case. Day after day passed, the days ran into weeks, and at last, after six weeks' hard work and a run to Chamouni, I was on my way home again.

"Well done," was the verdict passed upon my efforts, and it was very welcome, accompanied as it was with a check for 50 guineas.

"Call on me when I return to town," said my friend, "in about five weeks' time, and I will tell you something I think you will be glad to hear."

My thoughts immediately flew to Rosie. Not that I had by any means forgotten her, but now I was [illegible] and I felt even more dejected than ever. Liquidation cases are not romantic.

I was now at liberty to join my brother. I telegraphed at once, and at eleven o'clock that evening I was knocked up to take in the reply.

It was short and to the point. It ran thus: "Come along, old fellow; stay as long as you like."

I went. I lived with the detachment, and what fun we had! Fishing in a fine river close by, cricket, a little shooting, for September was upon us now, rowing up and down the stream, and dining with the hospitable Irish residents made up the total of our days after parade or inspection.

One guest [illegible], for we had our little social parties occasionally—we were sitting at the open windows when the sub of the party exclaimed:

"What a glare there is yonder! It's a fire, I believe."

"Bedad, you're right," said one of our guests. "It's down by Sir John's; he has a house full. I hope it's not the house itself."

"Shall I turn out the picket?" asked my brother. "Why, look, it's increasing; they may want assistance."

As he spoke the flames mounted up and the lurid smoke rose high into the glare above.

"Sound the fire call and turn out the pickets, Hamblyn," said my brother. "Take the men down at the double. We'll drive over. Come along. Look sharp."

I hurried on for a coat to cover my dress clothes. Of course being in a hurry I was delayed. In the dark I groped [illegible] fully, and at length when I crossed from my room I found that the others had driven off in the cars [illegible] had come over [illegible].

The sentry at the gate [illegible] his rifle as I passed, and in reply to my question told me that the captain and the whole party had gone, leaving word for me to follow if I liked.

"Yes, but how? They've taken all the cars, sentry."

"Yes, sir; but there's the gig, sir."

"A horse gig?"

"The boat, sir. You can scull down all [illegible] as they [illegible] your honor."

[illegible] pull down. It was not far; the moon was still bright; I knew the river pretty well.

No sooner thought than done. A soldier from the guardroom came across and helped me launch the gig.

"That's a big fire, sir; they do say it's at the hall below. Poor creatures! I hope they'll all escape. All right, sir."

I replied in the affirmative. He let go the painter, and with two [illegible] strokes of the light sculls I was in the stream. Fortunately I knew almost every turn and bend of the river or I should have more than once have had a very narrow escape if I had not been quickly upset. Urged by a reckless daring I sculled rapidly on alone.

Alone but for the company of two good planks. Whence came they and whither were they bound I did not think, but I noticed they kept close to me—now swirling away, now in the dim light meeting, then dividing, turning around, separating themselves, and soon [illegible] my sculls so as to impede my way and endanger my safety. They hugged me so closely at last that I lay on my oars, and clutching the intrusive boards pulled them into the boat, where under the thwarts they exchanged dripping confidences as to what they would do next. What they did shall be told in due course.

Such great effects from trivial causes spring.

The blazing house was now almost visible. The reflection was caught by the water just beyond me. On I scudded round the bend of the bank, the stream hurrying me down, and now I have opened up the town reach and the burning and half demolished building is cracking and roaring half a mile off. The smoke, dotted with a million sparks, flies up to heaven, while screams and cries and the roar of the falling timbers ascended with them to the lurid sky. Those tiny jets of water only serve to aggravate the thirst in that fiery throat, and not to quench it; no man can live near such a fire as that; the heat even in my gig was soon felt distinctly, and the two planks beneath my feet winked to each other in the glare and glistened side by side at the thought of what was coming.

A yell, a roar! Four people had got upon the crumbling parapet some feet above the stable roofs and were crying for assistance. Twenty-one men at once rushed in to offer ropes and help. What could they do? The unhappy inmates, clad in evening dress, looked weird and unearthly in the fiery glare. One was a lady and three were men. Taking off their coats they knotted them by the sleeves, and let down the lady to the lower roof in safety. Such a cheer arose for this! Well done, brave men, well done! British chivalry is not yet dead when Englishmen and Irishmen can act like this. I watched and waited, pulling in; the heat was great. I pulled away to the opposite wing, abutting on the river, now almost wholly clad in flame and smoke, but still itself unburning.

What is that? Can it be a man or woman kneeling there, and unobserved amid the shrouding smoke by all the rest, who are gazing at the gallant men around the stables? The soldiers had arrived and were doing good service, but no one else perceived the solitary form wrapped in an ulster coat, and trembling on the wall above the river.

Not a moment was to be lost. I pulled in hastily.

"Leap!" I shouted, "leap!" As I spoke I rose up in the boat. The planks winked once more and rattled. "Jump!" I yelled in my excitement.

One look to heaven—a glance down to the swiftly running river, and the person I addressed leaped feet first. Unthinkingly, I moved suddenly; the light gig rocked. In vain I attempted to recover my balance; the boat tipped over, and I fell headlong into the water, now covered with debris.

The two planks started after me together from beneath the thwarts.

I sank, and as I did so I thought of Rosie, and made up my mind to die, if I must, but I struggled manfully for life the while.

When one is unwillingly under water the brain seems to become busier than at all other times. I know not why, but in that half minute, or so, that I was underneath I saw many acts of my life. Circumstances looked from my mental point of view very different from what they had to my bodily eyes. I had plenty of time to repent of my rashness, to utter a prayer, and to forgive my enemies, and then I struggled, knocked my head, half sank again, put out my right arm, and grasped something. It was a plank.

Seeing a body rising up close by, I raised the head. The person I had tried to save was sensible, evidently.

I was delighted to find that he, too, was floating on a plank, the twin supporter of my arm, and how those good friends tossed about, and drove up against each other in sheer delight, as we all floated away fast down stream together, baffles description.

I impelled my plank towards the other, and, no doubt aided by that wondrous law of attraction and sympathy which exists even in wood, I succeeded in getting close to my companion. Leaning my arms upon the trusty plank, I managed to support the form near me, but all this time we neither of us spoke a word, nor could we discern each other's features. The fast subsiding fire far behind us now.

The steady planks kept floating with us towards the bank, but I was not very anxious to go ashore just then, as the river sides were steep and certain curling eddies did not look attractive.

The moon had been obscured by heavy clouds, but we could discern the stones which here and there rose from out the water from a shoal in mid stream. We should soon be in safety. The planks apparently thought otherwise. They bobbed about and grew very impatient to reach the shore.

There's distant thunder. A storm is coming up. No, it must be a train passing the bridge above. No; the noise increases; the sound is borne continually on the wind. The planks got very restless now. The banks even came closer to us, but the stream ran all the faster. The noise was getting louder every minute.

I knew what it was at last. I knew too well. It was the Mill Weir!

If the sluice were open to the huge overshot wheel our doom was sealed. Nothing much short of a miracle could save us. Striking out for the bank, I called to my companion to do the same, but encumbered with the ulster coat his progress was not great.

We would find footing on the lasher probably; the eddy would assist us.

We floated round the turn in the stream. The wheel was revolving. I could plainly hear the splash, splash of its monotonous clank and dash; the water dripped and ran away from the grinding woodwork and gladly escaped beneath to save being crushed to atoms on the top of those mighty paddles.

We had two channels to choose from—one over the weir, the other beneath the wheel. The suction of the latter was tremendous. I swam strongly for the former. I reached the slippery piles and caught them. A bright light was burning in a small window in the mill twenty yards or so away. We were in an eddy for a moment. I called out loudly. A head was put out—I yelled again. The plank whereon I lay slipped from beneath me, rose up again and carried me headlong down the foaming lasher like an arrow from a bow, while my companion was wrenched away and darted for the wheel. A loud cry escaped me as we parted. All was over now. Death at last. Oh Rosie, my darling Rosie, till we meet in heaven—farewell. I had time to think so much—no more.

* * * * * *

"He's all right; don't you lubbers keep around like that; sheer off, can't ye? Let a chap have a mouthful of air. Hurrah, yer sowls, he's breathin'."

He was. It was I. But how weak, how very ill, mentally and bodily, I felt when I awoke again to life and asked for Rosie.

"Sure he's wanderin' in his mind, so he is. Danny, run up and tell the captain the gentleman's alive. Hurry now."

I remember nothing more until I found myself in barracks in my brother's quarters. Then I suppose I fell asleep. [illegible] again awoke to consciousness they told me in [illegible] tones that I had just [illegible] brain fever and had been in bed nearly five weeks.

Five weeks! I was due in London. I told them so, or somebody spoke for me—at last the voice wasn't like my own.

[illegible]

I soon mended after that, and better. In a fortnight I was down again in the anteroom, where I was welcomed as a hero of romance. The good natured quizzing and congratulations of my brother officers were incessant. At this I [illegible] puzzled. [illegible] my brother said: "Perhaps he hasn't heard the real facts. Have you, H——?"

"I have not the very slightest idea what you are all talking about," I replied. "If it's anything, I don't see it."

"Now look, here she is again. Lucky fellow!"

"Not a day but what she rides over to inquire."

"Her father's here too."

"Tell him to come in, Hamblyn, and see the preserver of the sole daughter of his house and heart."

I heard, but scarcely heeded all this chaff.

The door opened; a lady in well fitting habit appeared. Mechanically I rose as she came in. I looked at her for one brief second; the next I had clasped her in my arms.

"Rosie, my darling Rosie, can it be you indeed?"

No doubt about it. She had come to thank me. For what? For saving her life the night when Sir John Carney's house was burned.

It was Rosie I had rescued then. No wonder my heart had beat so fast while we floated down the stream.

Rosie was my own at last. She is mine still, thank heaven.

Very little explanation is necessary. Mrs. Temple and her daughter had been paying a round of visits, and while staying at Sir John Carney's house the fire had broken out. Rosie had been my companion during that twenty minutes in the water. Wrapped up as she was and silent as we both were, we did not recognize each other in the dark. The miller had stopped the wheel and pulled Rosie out of the eddy just in time.

For a day or two Rosie had been quite unable to give an account of her rescue from the fire, and when her father arrived in obedience to a telegram he learned at the barracks—where he had called with Sir John to thank the commanding officer for his timely assistance—that his daughter's preserver was myself.

The reader will almost guess the sequel. Soon after my return to London I was appointed secretary of a nice little company with a nice little salary and work to match, all through the influence of the good solicitor. This employment left me leisure for other work, which I was lucky enough to obtain, and my success emboldened me to ask for Rosie once more.

This time I was not refused. We were married the year following, and now when we wander over hill, over dale, we often recall how we struggled together for life that memorable night "through flood, through fire."—Cassell's Magazine.

LITERARY NOTES

Mr. Swinburne has written an ode of some 500 lines in honor of Victor Hugo's seventy-eighth birthday.

A set of what are known as the J. Payne Collier reprints was sold in Edinburgh a short time ago for $400.

Four editions of the Metternich Memoirs have been issued already. The sale in America is nearly three times as great as in England.

A hitherto unpublished story by the late G. P. R. James, entitled The Bounty Shilling, is published in the last number of Morford's Magazine.

On the day that the school children of Cincinnati celebrated Mr. Longfellow's birthday not a copy of his works could be found in the city bookstores.

Fifty five editions were recently sold in London of Reynard the Fox, besides 123 editions of The Dance of Death, or books connected with that work.

Anthony Trollope is now sixty-five years old, and is described as having a bald forehead, with a border of curly, fluffy hair, a large mustache, an immense beard and an overbearing manner.

Rocky Mountain Mules is the subject of a short illustrated paper of humor and adventure, by Ernest Ingersoll, to appear in the April Scribner, and which, it is said, will add considerably to the natural history of this always interesting quadruped.

One of the most interesting of the recent contributions to the history of Folk Lore is Felix Liebrecht's Zur Volkskunde, which has just been published at Heilbronn in Germany. It is in part an elaboration and revision of articles by him which have previously appeared in print, and in part entirely new matter.

J. B. Lippincott & Co. of Philadelphia announce that an entirely new and thoroughly revised edition of the Gazetteer of the World will be issued toward the close of this month. A competent editorial corps has been engaged for the last five years on the work of revision.

His majesty Dom Luiz I of Portugal has completed his version of The Merchant of Venice, and the work has just been published in large and handsome form from the National Press at Lisbon. The king has presented the edition to the Lisbon orphanage to be sold for its benefit.

New York Anti-Third Termers

NEW YORK, March 25.—The anti third term republicans are actively working in this city and different portions of the state in a quiet way. Addresses are being widely circulated in plain language, opposing Grant. An independent republican address says:

In national politics this association is opposed to the third term project. It is especially opposed to the nomination of the ex president as a departure from wise precedents, and a confession of weakness which ought not to be made. The cry for him as a strong man is unrepublican, the expression of an emasculated desire to be governed unworthy of communities fit for self government. His candidacy would be forcibly damaged by his past administrations. Those administrations are indelibly associated with scandals which come home to thousands of republicans with a sting of personal disgrace. They have not forgotten the scandals. They remember that the ex president seemed unable to distinguish between good and bad men. They recall that under his administrations six northern and eight southern states were lost to the republican party, and the majority in the house of representatives extinguished. They believe that a popular demand for him does not exist, and that a step toward his nomination is a step toward defeat.

The officers are daily receiving encouraging letters from the interior. All join in saying that the national democratic ticket will be elected in case Grant is nominated. Anti third term meetings are held nightly and organizations formed which will control thousands of votes in this state.

A Steel Ship of War

[Berlin Letter to the London Standard.]

The German admiralty are now building a corvette at Dantzic, the body of which is to be exclusively of steel. Vessels so constructed will be of much greater speed than those plated with iron, which moreover has been proved useless against the newest heavy projectiles. The keel tiers were a day or two ago completed and connected. The frame and steel plates for the ship's bottom are also ready, the material having been supplied by the Gute Hoffnungs foundry in Oberhausen in a condition ready for working. The plates were bent while cold, rolled under the hydraulic press, and as a test exposed to the blow of a heavy ball, dropped from the height of fifteen metres. The metal is of the finest quality. Each plate is made larger than required, so that the surplus portions may be well proved before delivery. Lightness being the chief desideratum, no heavy wood will be used. The stem and stern, each in a single piece, are of wrought iron from the establishment of Messrs. Krupp.

Trying to Slide out Gracefully

Democratic Senators in caucus to-day seemed decidedly in favor of letting the Spofford-Kellogg case go over until the next session, unless necessary public business shall be so expedited as to admit of its consideration without prolonging the present session far into the summer.

THE BRAKEMAN AT CHURCH

On the road once more, with Lebanon fading away in the distance, the fat passenger drumming idly on the window pane, the cross passenger sound asleep, and the tall thin passenger reading "General Grant's Tour Around the World," and wondering why "Green's August Flower" should be printed above the doors of "A Buddhist Temple at Benares." To me comes the brakeman, and seating himself on the arm of the seat, says:

"I went to church yesterday."

"Yes?" I said, with that interested inflection that asks for more. "And what church did you attend?"

"Which do you guess?" he asked.

"Some union mission church," I hazarded.

"Naw," he said, "I don't like to run on these branch roads very much. I don't often go to church, and when I do, I want to run on the main line, where your run is regular and you go on schedule time and don't have to wait on connections. I don't like to run on a branch. Good enough, but I don't like it."

"Episcopal?" I guessed.

"Limited express," he said; "all palace cars and $2 extra for a seat; fast time, and only stop at the big stations. Nice line, but too exhaustive for a brakeman. All train men in uniform, conductor's punch and lantern silver plated, and no train boys allowed. Then the passengers are allowed to talk back to the conductor, and it makes them too free and easy. No, I didn't go to the Episcopal."

"Universalist?" I suggested.

"Broad gauge," said the brakeman; "does too much complimentary business. Everybody travels on a pass. Conductor doesn't get a fare once in fifty miles. Stops at flag stations, and won't run into anything but a union depot. No smoking car on the train. Train orders are rather vague, though, and the train men don't get along well with the passengers. No, I didn't go to the Universalist, though I know some awfully good men who run that road."

"Presbyterian?" I asked.

"Narrow gauge, eh?" said the brakeman; "pretty track, straight as a rule; tunnel right through a mountain rather than go around it; spirit level grade; passengers have to show their tickets before they get on the train. Mighty strict road, but the cars are a little narrow; have to sit one in a seat, and no room in the aisle to dance. Then there are no stop over tickets allowed; got to go straight through to the station you're ticketed for, or you can't get on at all. When the car's full no extra coaches; cars built at the shops to hold just so many, and nobody else allowed on. But you don't often hear of an accident on that road. It's run right up to the rules."

"Maybe you joined the Free Thinkers?" I said.

"Scrub road," said the brakeman; "dirt road and no ballast; no time card and no dispatcher. All trains run wild and every engineer makes his own time, just as he pleases. Smoke if you want to; kind of a go as you please road. Too many side tracks, and every switch wide open all the time, with the switchman sound asleep and the target lamp dead out. Get on as you please and get off when you want to. Don't have to show your tickets, and the conductor isn't expected to do anything but amuse the passengers. No, sir, I was offered a pass, but I don't like the line. I don't like to travel on a road that has no terminus. Do you know, sir, I asked a division superintendent where the road run to, and he said he hoped to die if he knew. I asked him if the general superintendent could tell me, and he said he didn't believe they had a general superintendent, and if they had he didn't know any more about the road than the passengers. I asked him who he reported to, and he said 'nobody.' I asked a conductor who he got his orders from, and he said he didn't take orders from any living man or dead ghost. And when I asked the engineer who he got his orders from, he said he'd like to see anybody give him orders; he'd run that train to suit himself, or he'd run it into the ditch. Now you see, sir, I'm a railroad man, and I don't care to run on a road that has no time, makes no connections, runs nowhere, and has no superintendent. It may be all right, but I've railroaded too long to understand it."

"Maybe you went to the Congregational church?" I said.

"Popular road," said the brakeman, "an old road, too—one of the oldest in this country. Good road-bed and comfortable cars. Well managed road, too; directors don't interfere with division superintendent and train orders. Road's mighty popular, but it's pretty independent, too. Yes, didn't one of the division superintendents down east discontinue one of the oldest stations on this line two or three years ago? But it's a mighty pleasant road to travel on. Always has such a pleasant class of passengers."

"Did you try the Methodist?" I said.

"Now you're shouting," he said, with some enthusiasm. "Nice road, eh? Fast time and plenty of passengers. Engines carry a power of steam, and don't you forget it; steam-gauge shows a hundred and eighty all the time. Lively road; when the conductor shouts 'all aboard,' you can hear him to the next station. Every train light shines like a headlight. Stop-over checks are given on all through tickets; passengers can drop off the train as often as they like, do the station two or three days and hop on the next train that comes thundering along. Good, whole-souled, companionable conductors; ain't a road in the country where the passengers feel more at home. No passes; every passenger pays full traffic rates for his ticket. Wesleyanhouse air brakes on all trains, too; pretty safe road, but I didn't ride over it yesterday."

"Perhaps you tried the Baptist?" I guessed once more.

"Ah, ha!" said the brakeman, "she's a daisy, isn't she? River road; beautiful curves; sweeps around anything to keep close to the river, and it's all steel rail and rock ballast, single track all the way and not a side track from the round house to the terminus. Takes a heap of water to run it though; double tanks at every station, and there isn't an engine in the shops that can pull a pound or run a mile with less than two gauges. But it runs through a lovely country; these river roads always do; river on one side and hills on the other, and it's a steady climb up the grade all the way till the run ends where the fountain head of the river begins. Yes, sir, I'll take the river road every time for a lovely trip, sure connections and a good time, and no prairie dust blowing in at the windows. And yesterday, when the conductor came around for the tickets with a little basket punch, I didn't ask him to pass me, but I paid my fare like a little man—twenty five cents for an hour's run, and a little concert by the passengers throwed in. I tell you, pilgrim, you take the river road when you want—"

But just here the long whistle from the engine announced a station, and the brakeman hurried to the door, shouting:

"Zionsville! Train makes no stops between here and Indianapolis!"

"OMNES PROSINT"—HEALTH FOR ALL.

The Original Oregon Botanical Remedies.

Prepared Only by Wm. Pfunder, Operative Chemist.

No. 7138
YOUNG BUT THRIVING

Why are the people of the Pacific Coast should any longer be pestered with worthless nostrums made fifty years ago east of the Rocky Mountains, and that too, by persons who never even knew chemistry by its name proper, much less its wonderful workings. This question suggested itself years ago to Wm. Pfunder, the only operative chemist in Oregon. The result was that this gentleman applied himself to a great and tedious research of the different vegetations, growing in immense quantities, especially in Oregon, but shedding—until his discoveries—all their virtues from year to year to mother earth. His tedious researches, scientific applications, and proper combinations, culminated in the production known to-day as the OREGON BLOOD PURIFIER. Progressu labore et scientia extractum concentratum, nomine Pfunderii Oregoniense formatur.

Experience makes the master. Having had experience with very difficult medicines, chemicals, etc., for over 25 years, and having mastered them all through hard study, both here and in the East and in Europe, we can confidently recommend our Botanical Remedies, because we have extracted, nay, "wrenched" from the very heart strings of hidden nature, all that is good and beneficial to suffering humanity, and leaving the Empty Shells and Worthless Leaves to imitators, green and inexperienced.

WM. PFUNDER'S OREGON BLOOD PURIFIER will positively be found a valuable remedy for chronic constipation, affected kidneys, dyspepsia, liver complaint, rheumatism, scrofula and all other diseases having their origin in impure blood.

[illegible] Oregon, January 23, 1880. [illegible] A few bottles of your indeed valuable medicine called PFUNDER'S OREGON BLOOD PURIFIER have entirely cured my Rheumatism of 10 years standing, and other acquaintances speak very highly about it, performing a cure in every instance. I will be glad to make it known to all sufferers, hence I make the above statement. H. SCHWARTZ.

[illegible] for 14 years a resident of Portland, says: For 14 years I suffered from liver complaint—tried everything. Cured with 6 bottles PFUNDER'S OREGON BLOOD PURIFIER.

[illegible] and am still using it when occasion requires. What? The OREGON BLOOD PURIFIER! Such are the words of one of our lady [illegible] will understand what is meant.

[illegible] Get a bottle of PFUNDER'S OREGON BLOOD PURIFIER. Use it, those pimples will leave your otherwise finely shaped forehead. [illegible] you also try a bottle of this really invigorating remedy and regain that natural bloom on your sweet face, which no paint or powder can [illegible]

[illegible] general debility removed in a short time, rapid gaining of flesh, improved complexion and good health. I sold my last bottle of Pfunder's Oregon Blood Purifier to Doctor Angell of this place, whose wife has been suffering from general debility for over one year, although the Doctor tried his best to [illegible] remedy the patient felt better, so much so that the doctor wants one dozen of this truly good medicine, which please send in my care to [illegible] an extract received from Mr. Boos, Forest Grove, Oregon.

[illegible] Ruegg, of Multnomah county, State of Oregon, certify herewith that Wm. Pfunder's Oregon Blood Purifier has entirely cured me of a skin disease [illegible] poison oak. Although I had applied to several physicians for relief, none of these gents could do me any good, and I herewith recommend the Oregon Blood Purifier to all suffering with such skin diseases. Signed, F. RUEGG.

Sea Sickness—I used to dread it—a sea voyage; but now, since I take Pfunder's Oregon Blood Purifier I do not feel the least inconvenience. Use a dose or two before going on board and same after leaving vessel.

Look at him—that sallow sole leather face—that dull red rimmed eye—that slouching walk—yes, look at him well. He is a dyspeptic. Now look at this [illegible] elastic step, bright eye, healthy complexion—how is this? Well, he uses Pfunder's Oregon Blood Purifier and nothing else.

Mountain fever of years standing cured without the use of Quinine in a short time. Read and admire. I have been suffering from mountain fever for years. My physicians told me the only chance of my getting better would be a change of climate. Accidentally I came across a bottle of Pfunder's Oregon Blood Purifier, used it, and following directions by using a bottle of the S. S. S. Fever and Ague Mixture in addition, I am perfectly healthy now, and thus capsized the theory of my physicians. GEORGE GREEN, Mail Carrier U. S.

Ladies in that delicate state—ever to be revered—but ever creating nausea, will find speedy relief by using Pfunder's Oregon Blood Purifier.

Pfunder's S. S. S. (safe, sure, speedy) Fever and Ague Mixture Certificate. I suffered some time with, what I was told, malarial fever, accompanied with pains in my head, back, in fact felt pains all over. Not getting any better after using all kinds of medicines, I tried PFUNDER'S FEVER AND AGUE MIXTURE, and since gained rapidly in health. MARIE WELLER, Seventh and C streets, Portland.

The different Constitutions. The Constitution of the United States, that master piece of human brain. How is your constitution? If bilious, use Pfunder's Oregon Blood Purifier, the triumph of modern science.

THE PEOPLE'S CHOICE—TONIC—Bitters, sugared sarsaparillas, watered bad whiskies and pills made B. C.—hard as rock, are the cause, the reason, that to-day our people suffer more from liver complaint, poor digestion, etc., than any other nation. The idea of giving our working population such trash, and magnifying that trash by calling it ferrated (or iron containing) medicine here, where nature's products are abundant, and very nutritious. Eat our Columbia River salmon, that splendid beef derived from cattle feeding on bunch grass, those vegetables at once healthy and within the reach of everybody, and then laugh at those puerile efforts of ignorant, inconsequent parties trying to force iron into your system. All you want—you who constitute the mass of the people—is to get your liver into working order, and there is no other or better remedy than PFUNDER'S OREGON BLOOD PURIFIER. Price per bottle, one dollar. Five dollars for half a dozen.

Your Druggist has It or will get it for you. "The Original." Insist upon having it!

MIDDLE AGED MEN.
There are many at the age of thirty to sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin milkish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito urinary organs.
